All these methods have repeatedly been tested in practice and can help you to solve your most profound and age-old challenges, which sometimes remain unsolved even if you use some expensive branded products. These products -from lotions to creams - do no harm to the skin and the environment so that we can call them eco cosmetics. Organic Cosmetics in Austria: A Review of the Purchase Decision Process and the Importance of Emotional and Rational Aspects Affecting Purchase Behavior Dec 21 2021 Die Konsumation von organischen Produkten hat in Österreich in den letzten Jahren stetig zugenommen. Das Interesse der Konsumenten liegt hierbei nicht nur bei organischen Lebensmitteln, sondern auch im Bereich der organischen Kosmetik. Speziell der zuletzt genannte Bereich stellt eine interessante Nische für nationale sowie internationale Kosmetikfirmen dar. Momentan sind leider wenige Studien und Informationen im Bezug auf das weibliche österreichische Käuferverhalten von organischer Kosmetik vorhanden. Auf Grund der Tatsache, dass das Konsumentenverhalten und dessen beeinflussende Faktoren ein breites Gebiet umfassen, präsentiert diese Arbeit die relevantesten Faktoren, die mitunter das Käuferverhalten beeinflussen und zur Kaufentscheidung führen. Die Kaufentscheidung der Konsumentinnen wird beeinflusst und geformt von verschiedenen Faktoren, welche individuelle sowie umweltbedingte Einflüsse inkludieren. Die Studie umfasst acht In-Depth-Interviews, die mit Kosmetikexperten sowie Firmen geführt wurden. Weiters wurden zwei Fokusgruppen durchgeführt und an Hand der Projektionsmethoden analysiert. Die Fokusgruppen stammten jeweils aus Vorarlberg und Wien. Auf Grund der Studie ist, sowohl ein Überblick über den Kaufentscheidungsprozess, als auch eine Analyse der emotionalen und rationalen Aspekte die das Kaufverhalten beeinflussen, gewonnen worden. Das Kaufverhalten, der weiblichen österreichischen Konsumentinnen von organischer Kosmetik ist beeinflusst und geformt von verschiedenen Faktoren, welche individuelle Unterschiede wie Demographie, Werthaltung, Persönlichkeit, Motivation, Wissen über Produkte und dessen Eigenschaften sowie umweltbedingte Einflüsse wie Kultur, Einkommen, Familie und persönliche Beeinflussung, als auch situationsbedingtes Verhalten inkludieren. Die Kaufentscheidung für organische Kosmetik wird rein emotional gefällt, auch wenn Konsumentinnen rationale Argumente für die Rechtfertigung ihrer Kaufentscheidung benutzen. Der jetzige Trend hin zu biologischem Essen sowie die individuellen Charaktereigenschaften der österreichischen Kultur, Medien sowie die höhere Preiswahrnehmung, das Gesundheitsbewusstsein, die ethische Konsumation und vergangene Erfahrungen der Österreicherinnen stellen sich als wichtigste beeinflussende Faktoren für organische Kosmetikkauf heraus. Abschließend ist noch anzumerken, dass die herangezogenen qualitativen Methoden und Resultate sich eignen für die Entwicklung einer quantitativen Studie, welche eine größere und repräsentativere Stichprobe umfasst. Solch eine Studie könnte entwickelt werden, wenn Unternehmen Marketingstrategien für organische Kosmetikfirmen kreieren.*****The consumption of organic products in Austria has been increasing in the last years and consumers are not only interest in buying organic food but also organic cosmetics. This last market presents an interesting niche for national and international cosmetic companies. Unfortunately, at the moment, there is a lack of studies or other information on the buying behavior of Austrian female consumers of organic cosmetics. Because consumer purchase behavior and the factors affecting it are a broad topic, this paper presents the most relevant factors influencing consumers behavior and their reasons for buying organic cosmetics. Consumers purchase decisions are influenced and shaped by different factors that include individual differences and environmental influences. The research consisted of eight in-depth interviews that were carried out with organic cosmetic experts and companies, and two focus groups that were conducted with the use of projective techniques, in the regions of Vorarlberg and Vienna in Austria. This research yielded a review of the purchase decision process and an analysis of the emotional and rational aspects affecting the purchase behavior. The purchase behavior of Austrian female consumers of organic cosmetics is influenced and shaped by different factors that include individual differences like demographics, values, personality, motivations, knowledge about the product and attitudes, environmental influences such as culture, income, family and personal influence, as well as situational behavior. The purchase decision of organic cosmetics is entirely emotional, even though consumers use rational arguments to justify such decisions. The current trend of organic food consumption, the individualism characteristic of the Austrian culture, media, higher price perception, health awareness, ethical consumption and past experiences are found as some of the most important influencing factors. Finally, the qualitative methodology used in this study could help to develop a quantitative research study using a large and representative sample. Such a study could be used in the development of marketing strategies for organic cosmetic companies.

Skin Cleanse May 02 2020 Breakouts. Dryness. Redness. Oiliness. If you're like most women, you've been on a never-ending quest for perfect skin—or even just good skin—since adolescence. It's a frustrating pursuit to say the least, filled with one disappointing (and expensive) miracle solution after another. Why is it so hard to get good skin? Adina Grigore, founder of the organic skincare line S.W. Basics, would argue that getting clear, calm, happy skin is about much more than products and peels. Or, rather, it's about much less. In Skin Cleanse, she guides readers through a holistic program designed to heal skin from the inside out. We tend to think of our skin as a separate entity from the rest of our bodies when in fact it is our largest organ. The state of our skin is a direct reflection of what our bodies look like on the inside. So Adina's program begins as any healthy regime should: with the basics for full-body health. That means eating plenty of fresh, whole foods; drinking more water; getting blood pumping and oxygen flowing to your cells through movement; and giving your skin a chance to repair and regenerate by resting. From there, readers are challenged to a skin cleanse that requires going product-free for twenty-four hours. Once detoxed, Adina then shows us how to overhaul our beauty routine, how to carefully add some products back in, and even how to make our own products at home, with advice and targeted solutions for specific skin conditions such as acne, dry skin, oily skin, and more. The secret to beautiful, stress-free skin is simple: it's an inside job.

Discovering Cosmetic Science Aug 05 2020 Welcome to this 'novice's guide'. At last a book that explains the real science behind the cosmetics we use. Taking a gentle approach and a guided journey through the different product types, we discover that they are not as superficial as often thought and learn that there is some amazing science behind them. We shall uncover some of the truths behind the myths and point out some interesting facts on our way. Did you know? Vitamin E is the world's most used cosmetic active ingredient. At just 1mm thick, your amazing skin keeps out just about everything it's exposed to - including your products! A 'chemical soup' of amino acids, urea, mineral salts and organic acids act as 'water magnets' in the skin keeping it naturally moisturised. Discovered centuries ago, iron oxides (yes, the same chemicals as rust) are still commonly used inorganic pigments in foundations. A lipstick is a fine balance of waxes, oils and colourants to keep the stick stable and leave an even gloss on your lips.

Organic Skin Care Recipe Feb 29 2020 Organic skin care has been around for a while but is not famous. In reality, many people don't even recognize what it's far like. However organic skincare is a top-notch manner to help shield your pores and skin from dangerous chemical compounds. Natural skincare is made with no chemical substances or synthetic ingredients. Instead, it uses herbal elements, which can be now and again sourced from organic vegetation. This means the pores and skin care merchandise are free from insecticides, herbicides, and other dangerous chemicals. Natural skincare is likewise suitable for your skin.
